

Dr. Dave Hoisington

Deputy Director General for Research

International Crops Research Institute for the Semi-Arid Tropics (ICRISAT)

Patancheru, Andhra Pradesh, 502 324, India

EM: d.hoisington@cgiar.org

Currently, the Deputy Director General for Research at the International Crops Research Institute for the Semi-Arid Tropics (ICRISAT) with oversight of ICRISAT's global research and development activities in sorghum, millets, chickpea, groundnut and pigeonpea cropping systems. Has published over 70 refereed journal articles, 30 book chapters and made numerous invited presentations at international conferences. Is a member of the Editorial Board for Theoretical and Applied Genomics and International Journal of Plant Genomics. Joined ICRISAT in March 2005 as the Global Theme Leader for Biotechnology. Prior to ICRISAT, served in various positions at the International Maize and Wheat Improvement Center (CIMMYT) leading the Genetic Resources Program and the Applied Biotechnology Center for nearly 16 years. Prior to working at CIMMYT, was an Assistant Research Professor in the Agronomy Department at the University of Missouri. Obtained a BS in Botany and Plant Pathology from Colorado State University, Ft. Collins and a PhD in Plant Biology from Washington University, St. Louis.